BOOSTER COMMITTEE HEADS ARE MADE PUBLIC TODAY

CAMPAIGN TO BE PUSHED AT ONCE

W. E. BARBER IN CHARGE OF FINAL PICNIC

GOLD PRIZE FOR A BUTTON

F. H. Burgess Heads Committee to Devise and Select Proper Label Adornment.

The booster movement is well under way.

Today the executive committee of the "Booster Button" campaign appointed the heads of all sub committees which will have charge of the work, and from this time on, La Crosse will experience such a shaking up as she has not experienced in years.

For the heads of committees men have been chosen who have a reputation for hustling, and who at the same time can take sufficient time off
to devote to their "booster" duties.
Upon them falls largely the responsibility of the whole movement.

Barber on Booster Day

W. E. Barber has been appointed chairman of the committee on picnic and "Booster Day." This day will be the grand finale of the booster movement, and all arrangements will be in the hands of Mr. Barber's committee. The committee will arrange the date, secure speakers, and make all preliminary arrangements.

Organizer William Panke has been selected to head the committee on labor union co-operation. Mr. Panke was chosen in view of the fact that the members of the executive committee thought that a committee of this sort can secure wonderful results
by asking the labor unions to take hold of the booster movement and giving it the necessary impetus.

A North Side Booster

Chief Booster of the North side
will be Frank Geisenheimer.

Each committee head, appointed today, will be required to name the members of his own committee. No limit is placed on the number of members each shall have. When all appointments have been made, a mass meeting of the committee members will be called for the purpose of going over the detailed plans.

Offer Prize for Design

The Booster Buttons will be devised, planned and provided by the button committee, which will be headed by Frank H. Burgess. The executive committee today decided that the person who offers the suggestion finally adopted as a suitable design, by the button committee, will be awarded a cash prize of five dollars in gold. Mr. Burgess' committee will have the first work of the campaign for getting a design, and also the campaign for disposing of them. They will also fix
the price of the buttons.

BED SPRING GRAFT

Police After Alleged Fakir Working in La Crosse

The police, upon notification of Louis Tupp of Omaha, who claims to have been victimized out of $56, are searching here for a man named Rosenow, alleged to be selling territorial sale rights for a patent bed spring. Tupp claims to have communicated with the company Rosenow claims to represent, securing information that the man had no right to sell territory and did not represent them.

Tupp traced the man to La Crosse and today notified the police of the case and demanded his arrest.

Police are searching for the man
this afternoon.

It is said Rosenow has two people on the "string" here. He proposes to sell one the sales rights for La Crosse county for $107 and to sell Minnesota territory to another party
for a similar sum.

Rosenow was seen in the city today.

MURDER IN MYSTERY OF DROWNED WOMAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 29.— Mystery surrounds the finding of the body of an unknown woman in the lake today. Indications of murder are discovered. The police are working on the case, but so far neither her identity nor a clue to her slayers
has been found.

Attorney Walters of the Interstate commerce commission was in La Crosse today and called on Congressman John J. Esch.

NEW SCANDALSTIRS U. S. ARMY CIRCLES

MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN ATTACKS
HER SON-IN-LAW

FILIPINO BEAUTIES FIGURE

Separation of Army Officer and Wife Leads to New Military Sensation in Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—
What promises to be another cause
celebre in the American army has been precipitated through the action of Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of the famous civil war general, in filing a complaint at the war department alleging scandalous conduct on the part of her son-in-law, Lieutenant Colonel William F. Tucker.

If an investigation already begun by the war department should substantiate her statements, Lieutenant Colonel Tucker stands in danger of court martial.
Since the complaint reached the war department its contents have quietly circulated in army circles in Washington and in interest has eclipsed the case of Mrs. Ayres, who recently was excluded from the military reservation at West Point. It also has recalled allegations against other army officers involving Filipino women.

Wife Returns to Mother

The interest in the Tucker case is heightened by the recent reports that Lieut. Col. Tucker and his wife, Mrs. Logan's daughter, recently separated. Mrs. Tucker is now in Washington living with her mother, and her husband, Lieut. Col. Tucker, is stationed in Chicago, performing his duties as paymaster of the department of the lakes.

The complaint filed by Mrs. Logan is said to be based upon the way in which her son-in-law conducted himself while stationed in the Philippines. Lieut. Col. Tucker was assigned to duty in Manila several years ago and only recently returned and assumed his duty in Chicago.

Charges are Kept Secret

Officials of the war department decline to make public the nature of Mrs. Logan's allegations and Mrs.
Tucker herself will not talk about
them.

INSURANCE CO. NO LONGER AT LARGE

CHICAGO, June 29.—Declaring that its continuation in business would be a menace to the public and to its policy holders, Fred W. Potter, state superintendent of insurance,
yesterday secured from Judge Honore
the appointment of a receiver for the Marquette Mutual Life Insurance company, which has 928 members
and outstanding policies of $1,180,- 540. According to Mr. Potter, the company's receipts for last year were $14,981.32 and its disbursements
$12,689.16, of which only $167.11
was used in payment of death claims.
Judge Honore named Charles H.
Blanchard as receiver. He will seek to find what become of the money
apparently not accounted for.

LIAR! RASCAL! IS HEARD IN COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 29.—
The proceedings before Judge Lawler in the indictment cases were enlivened by Francis L. Heney calling A. A. Moore a liar after Moore had called him a rascal.

Heney argued that it was quite proper for Clerk Trefts to make the correction on his own responsibility.
Stanley Moore held that the minutes could only be changed on authority of the court.

"I think you are a good deal of a rascal."

"You're a liar and a shyster," replied Heney, calmly.

Both apologized to the judge, but neither would retract. Heney was cheered as he left the building.

WORKERS HISS THE AMERICAN FLAG

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 29.—
Members of the Industrial Workers of the World last night hissed the mention of the American flag, made in M. Grant Hamilton's speech on the labor situation. Hamilton is the Denver organizer of the American Federation of labor. "We don't want the flag," several members shouted.

LEAPS FROM AUTO CRAZED BY HEAT

RENO, Nev., June 29.—Heat-crazed
while crossing the desert, Cleo J.
Young, a St. Louis woman, jumped from a tourist car running forty miles an hour at Hazen last night. It is thought she will live.

AQUATIC ATHLETES OF LA CROSSE

REUBEN TRANE.

TRACY L. BURKE.

These two young students of the state university are La Crosse boys who distinguished themselves in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie Wednesday. Mr. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs.
E. R. Burke, 134 South Eleventh street, is coxswain of the varsity, and is regarded by expert judges as the greatest man in the place developed in recent years. Mr. Trane, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Trane, reside at 131 West avenue south, is said to be a "comer" of varsity caliber. Both expect to spend their vacations in this city.

OPERATORS STRIKE MAY TIE UP CHICAGO

WESTERN UNION MAN "FIRED" AND TROUBLE IS BREWING

HAD LIST OF LOCAL SCABS

Russell Stays Move, But Men Demand Reinstatement and Strike
is Prophesied Tomorrow

CHICAGO, Ill., June 29.—William W. Main, an operator in the main office of the Western Union, was discharged this morning for having in his possession a letter from San Francisco containing a list of the non union operators working there.
The rank and file is clamoring for a strike here to compel his reinstatement. Secretary Russell is holding the men in check. It is believed the men will walk out Monday if Main is not reinstated. Main has been employed here for seventeen years.

Committee Named

This afternoon a grievance committee was appointed to demand Main's reinstatement. The company has not replied to the request for a conference. It is generally believed the failure to consider the demand will result in a walk-out tonight or tomorrow.

THE IGORROTE MAY WEAR NOTHING MUCH

CHICAGO, Ill., June 29.—So far as the city of Chicago is concerned is was decided yesterday by the license committee of the council that an Igorrote may disport himself or herself attired in a "gee-string" and a bracelet, or a plug hat and a pair of cuffs, or wrapped from head to foot in a blanket, or in any other manner that happens to suit the fancy and climate of the people from the Philippines.

GIRL OF GOLD WEDS MAN OF BLOOD

LANCASTER, Mass., June 29.— Cornelia Van Rensselaer Thayer today became the wife of Count Carl Von Maltke of Copenhagen. The bride is the daughter of Nathaniel Thayer, the Boston multimillionaire.

NO NIGGER VOTES SAYS HOKE SMITH

ATLANTA, Ga., June 29.—In his inaugural address today Governor-elect Hoke Smith advocated the disfranchisement of the negroes. He deprecated lynchings and says he will stop them. He declared against corporation lobbyists in the legislature, and in favor of free railroad passes.

ARIZONA CITY IS BURNING TODAY

BISBEE, Ariz., June 29.—This city is in flames. Everything on the Mexican side of the town and the business section has been swept clean.
The fire is beyond control.

MAY SUE RAILROAD

Relatives of the late Miss Mamie Nesler, who was killed by a Milwaukee train on the north side June 5
have retained a local firm of attorneys and it is said suit is contemplated.

ORCHARD NOT AT MINE BLOW-UP TALL

CIGAR STORE MAN SWEARS HE WAS IN POKER GAME

OTHERS SHOW STORY FALSE

Defense Gets in Much Evidence to Prove Murderer a Liar and Killer for Vengeance.

BOISE, Idaho, June 29.—Thomas Flynn, a cigar dealer, today declared that Orchard lied when he said he was in Wardner at the time the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill was blown on April 29, 1899. He said that at that time Orchard was playing poker
in his cigar store. Flynn is positive he is right.

Patrick McHale, a bartender, said
he played cards with Orchard in the Coeur d'Alene district on the day the mill was blown.

Frank Hough, a painter of Wallace, said he was once thrown into the bull pen for two months with Jack Simpkins. He did not know what he was arrested for. He said the prisoners were badly treated.
This was brought out to show that Simpkins and others who were arrested had cause for hating Steunen-berg. J. H. Ramsey, a stage driver, said he knew Orchard and saw him
after the Bunker Hill explosion. Orchard wanted to sell his interest in the Hercules mine in order to get money to flee the town before the troops arrived.

Persecuted by Troops

James A. Baker of British Columbia, a former member of the executive board of the federation of miners, went to Denver in 1903 to take charge of its affairs because the leaders were under arrest. He went to Cripple Creek, but was ordered out by the military.

William Amole of Denver, lived in Victor during the strike. He was a watchman at the Portland mine.
He related his experience with the troops and said he was ordered out of the district.

LABOR CELEBRATION

TRADES COUNCIL NAMES COMMITTEE

Labor Day Parade and Usual Exercises Planned

Labor day, the first Monday in September, will be observed in La Crosse in a fitting manner this year.
At the regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening, at Labor hall plans were made for the event, and a committee was appointed to make preliminary arrangements.

A big parade, in which every union
man in La Crosse will participate, and appropriate exercises at the Interstate Fair grounds will be features of the celebration. Members of the committee are: Emil Hiekel, chairman; L. A. Weigel, secretary;
L. A. Weisbecker, A. B. Chandler, William Panke, George Naegle and A. Ruegg.

RUSS PEASANTS BURN RICH ESTATES

TULA, Russia, June 29.—Six big estates, including that of Count Bo-rinsky, president of the constitutional democratic party, were devastated by incendiary fires started by peasants
who were angry over the douma's dissolution.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY DENOUNCES
SLAYER AS CRUEL CRIMINAL

JEROME "BUTTS IN" IN VAIN

New York District Attorney Wants Precedent Established for Use in the Second Thaw Trial

HOUSTON, Va., June 29.—Attorney Harmon in his closing address
in the Loving murder trial today, denounced former Judge Loving as a cold blooded murderer and asked for the death penalty.

Attorney Moore, addressing the jury for the defense, said that Loving's mind was impaired after many years of excessive drinking and asked the jurors to place themselves in Loving's place and decide whether their minds would give way under the circumstances.

District Attorney Jerome of New York, in the hope of securing a precedent to aid him in the next trial of Harry Thaw, "butted in" to the Loving case yesterday.

Mr. Jerome, realizing the almost identical questions involved in this case to the Thaw case sent a personal telegram to Judge Barksdale, which reached him before the opening of court yesterday, citing additional authorities on the admissibility of the evidence, which the prosecution
wanted to introduce to show that Miss Loving's confession to her father
of what took place on the buggy ride
was false. This evidence was excluded in the Loving case, as similar evidence had been in the Thaw case.

Cities References

Mr. Jerome's telegram to Judge
Barksdale reads as follows:

"New York, June 27, 1907.
Judge Barksdale, Houston, Va.,
"Consult note of Wigmore in Second Illinois law review, page 35, citing Knapp against State of Indiana;

See also Commonwealth against Hau-rigan in 89th Kentucky, page 305.
"WM. TRAVERS JEROME."

Counsel for Judge Loving were greatly incensed at the action of District Attorney Jerome and Judge Barksdale did not seem to care particularly for the gratuitous advice,
declining to change his ruling.

OLDS BEATS RECORD

Motor Car Races at St. Paul Know World's Mark

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—(Special).—The Oldsmobile yesterday
knocked the world's record for twenty-five miles on a mile circular track, making the distance in 30:28. The Olds was first, National second and Olds third. Cars entered and their horsepower were: Olds, 35; Mitchell, 30-35; Stearns, 30-60; National, 50;
Olds, 35, and Mitchell, 30.
In the ten mile event for the Twin City championship the Olds defeated
the Mitchell, lapping the loser in the seventh mile of a ten mile race. The Mitchell was equipped with thirty and the Olds with thirty-five horsepower.

L. L. LUDKE NO MORE

Well Known Man Succumbs to Lung Trouble

Louis L. Ludke died last night at his home, 926 Hood street, after suffering with hemorrhage of the lungs
for a number of years. Deceased was born in La Crosse and was 38 years old. He was a shoemaker by trade, but for the last few years was forced to give it up on account of his illness. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

FUNERAL ON MONDAY

The funeral of Carl Brosinski who died at his home at Stoddard Thursday night after a lingering illness,
will be held from the residence there Monday noon. Services will also be held at the German Lutheran church at 1 o'clock, the Rev. Palechek officiating and Undertaker Mrs. Theodore Mannstedt in charge.

Mr. Brosinski leaves a widow and three small children, an aged mother and father and three sisters who mourn his loss.

FRENCH OUTBREAK EXPECTED

NARBONNE, France, June 29.—
Violent outbreaks in the Midi district are expected at any moment, due to the government resuming the collection of taxes.

SENSATIONAL TURN IN DYE WORKS CASE

MRS. OLSON DEFIES OFFICERS AND THREATENS HUSBAND

INJUNCTION IS ISSUED TODAY

Restraining Her From Interfering
With His Rights and She Defends
With Deadly Weapon

Wildly flourishing a 32 calibre,
blue barrelled, hammerless revolver,
and threatening to use it on her husband if he didn't keep away, Mrs.
Elenora Olson resisted officers of the law this morning and refused to turn over the New York Dye works, located on State street between Fifth and Sixth, to her husband. It was a dramatic scene.

"Stand back you cur, or I will blow
your brains out. This is my place by right and might, and I defy the courts or anyone else to take it away
from me," shouted the irate woman with the gun pointed directly at the head of her husband, who turned pale when compelled to look down
the muzzle of the ugly weapon. It all started when Sheriff Burns appeared at the place this morning and served papers on Mrs. Olson to turn over the place of business to her husband. She stood pat in the face of all circumstances, and while suffering under a great strain of nervousness, endeavored to send out her work in the usual way. Every once in a while when Mr. Olson would make a remark she would let fly with a book or anything in sight, and several times struck the mark square
on the nose.

It was a dramatic situation, superior to any to be witnessed on the stage, and out in front of the establishment was collected a large crowd of spectators taking it in. When the

Boy Pleads Guilty to Theft of Beer Bottles

Ed Hanson, aged 17, one of the boys arrested several days ago for stealing bottles from the C. & J.
Michel Brewing company was brought before Judge John Brindley in county court today. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to twenty days
in the county jail.

The boys were in the habit of stealing bottles from the brewery barns and bottling house, and disposing of them to neighborhood saloon men at 5 cents each. The saloonmen in turn got credit for them
from the brewery at the rate of 10 cents each.

FAIRBANKS SERVED DRINKS! KIBOSH!

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 29.—
Due to the strenuous fight being arranged against him by the temperance members of the Methodist church, Vice President Fairbanks
probably will withdraw his effort to be made the chief delegate to the national convention of his church at Baltimore next May.

The fight begun by the prohibition-ists is to be made country-wide. The fact that the vice president served cocktails to President Roosevelt and the guests at his home here Decoration day is the offending point.

TOKIO SAYS RACE HATRED INSPIRES

TOKIO, June 29.—A report has been received here that the San Francisco authorities place an embargo on Japanese engaging in the business of intelligence agencies and also refuse licenses of every kind,
preventing the Japs from engaging in other than commercial business.
This report helps confirm the belief
here that the anti-Japanese stand is based on racial prejudices.

Story is Denied
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 29.—
The authorities here deny the Tokio report that in San Francisco the Japs
are denied license to do business.

JAILED ON WEDDING EVE, ACTRESS DIES

BOSTON, Mass., June 29.—Grace
McDonald, an actress who was engaged to be married today, was found dead in a police cell. In giving a farewell dinner last night at her hotel she made so much noise that the police were called and Miss McDonald, as hostess was arrested. She refused to allow her sweetheart to pay the fine. It is supposed her death was due to heart disease.

SMALL HOLDINGS IN ENGLAND

(Boston Herald.)

Among the measures promised for the present session of the British parliament was a small holdings bill, which has now been published. It appears to be as timid an attempt at statesmanship as the Irish council bill. All that it provides for is power to create peasant tenants of the land rather than peasant owners. In other words, the state is to take the place of the individual landlord. Where the advantage to the peasant is to be found is, apparently, in the fact that the bill is to compel the landlord to part with his land for the purpose of division into small holdings.

No doubt the principle of compulsion has been embodied in the measure as a direct challenge to the house of lords. Yet the liberals may easily overstate the effectiveness of that piece of strategy. The English voter, and especially the liberal voter, objects to compulsion. He fought it to a successful issue on the question of vaccination, and he is a pronounced opponent of conscription in the army. And he may be credited with sufficient desire for fair play to resent the application of the principle of compulsion even under circumstances which may prove beneficial to himself.

According to the boastful utterances of that rather callow politician, Mr. Winston Churchill, the government is determined to press forward on a "crusade of land reform." If the present bill is an example of their crusade they cannot be congratulated on the extent of their courage. Besides, why did the party in power block the bill which was introduced by a unionist for the purpose of loaning state funds to enable farmers to purchase their holdings? If the English people are suffering from "unsatisfied land hunger," as the liberal premier asserts, it would be more statesmanlike to enable them to become owners rather than state tenants.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. O. T. Erhart.

Green Bay 7, Madison 1.

MADISON, Wis., June 29.—Green Bay won a postponed game from Madison by a score of 7 to 1. The Madison team had an off day and put up a weird exhibition in nearly every department of the game. Green Bay bunched its hits and took advantage of Madison's numerous errors. The score:

Madison . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 8
Green Bay . . . 0 1 2 1 0 0 0 1 2 7 9 1

Batteries: Grimes, Kramer and Leahy; Francis, Stremmel and Steele.

FREEPORT 7, Oshkosh 2.

Superb pitching by Scott and good stick work by the local team were the features of yesterday's game, in which Oshkosh was shut out. Scott held the visitors without a hit until the ninth inning. Oshkosh signed Friend and Shields of the Galena, Ill., independent team, here today. The score:

Freeport . . . 0 0 0 2 1 1 3 0 7 10 3
Oshkosh . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 3

Batteries: Scott and Stark; Converse and White.

BREAK EVEN IN OTHER EVENTS

HARVARD WINS EIGHT OARED RACE AND YALE FOUR OARED

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29.—Harvard freshmen in their eight-oared shell yesterday defeated Yale's freshmen by a length and a half. A few minutes later the Yale four-oared varsity crew turned the Harvard cheers into sighs when Old Eli came in ten lengths ahead of the weary four from Cambridge.

Both races were rowed down stream. Because of the terrific nature of the contest between the shells in the freshmen event the time was fast, Harvard winning in 11:15, four seconds ahead of Yale. Yale's time in the four-oared race was 12:33 and Harvard's was caught at 13:15.

Crimson Rows Great Race

Harvard took up a faster pace by two strokes than did Yale in the eight-oared event. Approaching the half mile Harvard had a slightly increased stroke, but maintained the lead of a length and a half. Passing the mile mark, Yale increased her stroke, and got into the lead for a second just before the mile and a half stake was reached. Almost immediately after passing the stake Harvard spurred to a half length lead. Harvard's spurt seemed fairly to lift the craft from the water. Both crews finished in good shape, and after the shells had crossed the line the Yale victorious varsity crew cheered the winning Harvard freshmen.

Yale Four Wins Easily

Yale's four-oared boat caught the water first, each crew rowing thirty-eight at the start. At the quarter Yale had a lead of a length and a half, and seemed to be pulling away easily from the Harvard four. Both crews decreased the stroke after the half was passed, Yale having an advantage of two lengths.

Harvard then spurred, but with little appreciable effort, Yale having the competition well in hand. Harvard sagged back near the mile stake and the adherents of Yale began to cheer the foregone conclusion—a Yale victory.

With a good lead Yale dropped the stroke to thirty-three, the timers catching the mile Yale, 6:06, Harvard, 6:18. After that it was easy for Yale, Harvard seeming to tire and splash. There was little enthusiasm. Two minutes after the finish both crews paddled to quarters.

"PINK" HAWLEY A GREAT MANAGER

HIS WORK OF THREE YEARS DEMONSTRATES THE FACT

A THIRD PENNANT TEAM

Has Developed Major Leaguers From Raw Material From the Farm. Several Men Sold

There are but few baseball managers in the minor leagues today who have experienced the success and shown the ability as has Manager "Pink" Hawley of the La Crosse champions. The fact is self evident when it is considered that he has carried away every pennant since the Wisconsin State league of baseball clubs was organized, and for a third time has a team on the top, practically since the season opened. To give Mr. Hawley the credit due him, it can be said that he is a manager of rare quality and one worthy of praise.

"Pink" took charge of the La Crosse team in its first year, 1905, and with a number of seasoned players and several raw ones, built up a club which went through the first year in a manner which denoted what good management can do. The next year he kept the first years team practically intact, and in a grueling finish won the bunting for a second time. The third year has started with his team again the premier organization in the circuit, this fact being clearly noted from the manner in which it has outclassed the other clubs.

Built Up Youngsters.

La Crosse, in the past two years, has sold a number of players to major league clubs and class A organizations, and in every instance it was Manager Hawley who developed the men and drew the attention of the bigger league clubs to them. He took Pitcher Dodge, one of the first stars of the local club, off a farm and made a twirler of him in a short time, and disposed of him to Chicago. Frank Schmeiberg, now one of the winning pitchers with the Milwaukee American association club, was tutored by "Pink," developed into a power on the slab, and was sold to Detroit. Pitcher George was raw material when he joined La Crosse and he soon grew too strong for the state league and was sold to the Boston American league club.

The latest sale of the local association, the most profitable of them all, was that of Eddie Konetchy to the St. Louis National league club for $1,000, and it is due to "Pink" that this local boy became the great first sacker he is, with the possibilities of becoming one of the best in the business. He was playing the outfield with the La Crosse Athletics when the Wisconsin State league was organized, and when the La Crosse club was organized he was signed for the outfield. Sizing him up Manager Hawley thought he would make a first sacker; placed him on the bag and he remained there until the present. Eddie's development is duly attributed to the coaching of his manager. If Manager Hawley continues at the head of the team it can be safely stated that more of his men will be placed in faster company.

HAVE TURNED OUT SOME GOOD ONES

W. B. U. ATHLETES AND THE MEN GRADUATED FROM TEAM

As an amateur team the W. B. U. Athletics of La Crosse has graduated more men into the professional game than any other club in this section of the country. The team takes due credit for its work and carries with it the reputation for being one of the foremost amateur clubs in the state.

The Athletics were organized seven years ago, and played the first season without uniforms. Later the team procured uniforms and after defeating the La Crosse Browns so decisively that club disbanded, took on Swan of the Browns for an outfielder and became the leading club of the city. When the Wisconsin State league was organized three years ago the club suffered by losing a number of its star players.

Those Who Graduated

Eddie Konetchy, the champ who has been sold to St. Louis, was an Athlete, but joined the state league team when the association was organized here. Julius Kauff, short stop on the Athletics is now short stop on the University of Wisconsin team and captain of that club for the coming year. Jules Burke, first baseman of Eau Claire, now with the champs, was with the Athletics last year. Ray Merrill, a pitcher, was signed by St. Paul and farmed out to Burlington in the Iowa league, but sprained an ankle and had to give up playing. Leo Fuchsel, a pitcher, was signed by Fond du Lac and sold to Medicine Hat. Henry Schalbach, center fielder, is now playing with the Turners in the city league of San Francisco.

The team was crippled this year by the loss of Burke, Fuchsel and Schalbach.

NEW UMPIRE NAMED

President Moll Has Secured Frank Newhouse to Officiate

President Charles Moll of the Wisconsin State league returned from a two weeks' fishing trip yesterday, and announced the acquisition of a new umpire, Frank Newhouse, who has been working in the Southern league. Newhouse comes well recommended, and Moll thinks he will strengthen his staff. He will start work tomorrow at Madison.

Although some of the teams have been losing money because of unfavorable weather President Moll predicts a prosperous season from now until the end of the race.

"The weather has to warm up some time," said Moll, "and then it's a cinch all the clubs will make money." Moll left for a visit to Madison last night.

AUSTRALIAN IS A FAVORITE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 29.—Betting on the coming Squires-Burns battle is beginning to get lively as the day of battle draws close. Up to date neither man seems to be a prominent favorite for the international mill.

As a betting affair the battle promises to break all records. It is even quite likely that the Antipodean may be the ringside favorite, as he seems to have a host of followers since he has come over. Those who have seen Basher Bill work out daily at San Rafael say he looks good enough to carry their money in the coming fight against Burns. Squires has great speed.

THE DOPE BOX

Green Bay here for three and then comes Oshkosh.

Louis Lippert, a new fielder, has joined Eau Claire. He is said to be a world beater.

Jules Burke, the first baseman who will take Eddie Konetchy's place, has arrived in the city and will be in the game this afternoon.

Everyone will now have a chance to determine just how strong Eddie was with the team. If Burke doesn't make quite as good a showing as Eddie don't tell him about it.

Scott of Freeport shut out Oshkosh yesterday without a hit until the ninth inning, and then Bubser's men gathered two. Converse was hit hard.

And still there is no word from the doctors concerning the playing of that game with the lawyers. The lawyers have a right to do some hollering.

Wausau Herald: Well, we got one out of five counting games in this part of the series, but we have also gotten out of a row of hard ones and are on the down grade. When Daddy Ferry gets his boys out of the woods so that he can put them to swamping such underbrush as Madison and Freeport, there will be something to see.

AS TO THE ONALASKA ROAD.

The Onalaska road project was beaten in the county board. That does not, we hope and believe, mean that there is any sentiment against a first class road in this quarter. The spirited contest that developed over the matter was a pretty square-toed difference of opinion as to what really is best for the county. The majority is against a new road in this case.

But while there will not be a NEW Onalaska road, it does not follow that there will not be a GOOD road. Every one of the members who voted AGAINST a NEW road, we are certain, is as earnestly in favor of a GOOD road as are those who voted FOR the new road. Therefore, the NEW road eliminated, the board will be practically unanimous for a GOOD road.

Dabbling and patching is bad business. It don't pay. The board, it seems certain, is a unit on the proposition that money spent on roads shall in the future be for PERMANENT improvements only. It is understood that Mr. Bradish, the consulting engineer, has outlined the work of repairing the old road to make it a modern highway, and has approximated the costs.

The thing to do, and to do as soon as practical, is to take the specifications of some competent engineer, Mr. Bradish or some other, and to invest in this road every dollar necessary to make it a scientific, lasting highway, and not a dollar more than enough to do this.

That is what we believe the county board will do. We look to see it accomplished with dispatch and efficiency. Its perfection will be directly in line with the sensible and progressive policy that has been outlined by the county board in its recent performances.

PASTORS MUST HUSTLE LIKE THE DEVIL.

Rev. Johnston Myers, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of Chicago, in an address to divinity students said that sermons are useless and must go, that they belong to the passing order, that they have outlived their usefulness like the crusades, that PERSONAL WORK must win the souls of the future. He supported this statement by pointing out that church attendance today is relatively insignificant compared with that of a decade ago.

There is a lot of truth in this. It is true in La Crosse. Comparing church attendance of today with that of a dozen or a score of years back, one finds an immense loss. Of course to be accurate the relative populations then and now must be reckoned as a factor.

And the reason for it? Rev. Myers startled some of his hearers by saying he favors sensational sermons. In that remark he touched the keynote of the situation. Time was when there was little to do Sunday but to go to church. Now there is everything imaginable to do Sunday beside go to church. Amusement—the love of it is growing—invites everywhere. There are new classes of "business" whose foundation is reaching out allurements to people to be entertained in the idle hours at the expense of some of their idle money. The church has competition, and most dangerous competition. To meet it was the first excuse for sensationalism in the pulpit.

The realm of pleasure has become a mountain of Sabbath desecration. So Mohammed must go to the mountain. That is what Rev. Myers meant by "personal work." It will not do for the church to open its doors and wait for the coming of people. The workers of the church must go out and find the subjects for their endeavors. That is being done. First it was the Salvation army and the Volunteers. Now it is coming to be the missions, stronger because home organizations. These find the halt and the lame and the blind in the byways and bring them home. The church must do the same. The world is rushing on in feverish haste. We are being swiftly. Men of another life. To them, sufficient unto the day is the pleasure and the work thereof. They will not seek the church, so the church must seek them.

But it is possible that Rev. Myers went a little beyond the borders of logic when he relegated the sermon to the shelves of antiquity. The church must live, else there can be no church work. The church is the social anchor that keeps religion steadfast. It is essential to organization, and organization is essential to conversions.

And the sermon is essential to the church. The pastor must feed his faithful flock in the old way. The only difference is that he must do more. He can no longer confine his efforts to preaching the Word to those who will come to hear it. He must not devote himself exclusively to his congregation, he must get out and hustle. For the devil is hustling all the time. It is an agreeable sign that many of our pastors are showing keen appreciation of these facts. Incidentally, if anyone inquires where the people are on Sunday evening, take him down to the business district and show him what is doing Sunday evenings in our "Coney Island."

JOHN ROCKEFELLER AND SAM JONES.

John D. Rockefeller and Sam Jones look alike to Judge Landis, of Chicago. That is, sensible talk, and coming from a prominent jurist it has a reassuring ring.

Standard Oil was convicted of crimes the maximum fines possible for which aggregated 29 millions. In order to decide what would be a just penalization Judge Landis asked for figures showing the approximate earnings of the oil trust. The attorney for the oil trust, with some asperity and no little insolence, told Judge Landis that his request was "extra judicial" and declined to furnish the information. Thereupon Judge Landis cited the oil kings themselves—the Rockefellers and Rogerses, etc.—to appear and answer the questions under oath.

Here was something else, and the trust attorney was staggered. He told the court that John D. Rockefeller is an old man and an ill man. He was done bluffing. He was interceding with courteous moderation now. And the court said that if he could be convinced that John D. is physically unfit to enter court and testify, he may conclude to excuse him. But only on that ground, for multi-millionaires, he said, look just like ordinary folk to him. And as to Henry H. Rodgers, he must come into court and swear. Probably he is already swearing.

An American pastor just returned from Japan warns Americans not to regard with contempt the possibility of a clash with the mikado, who he assures us is able and willing to give us a bout of the "fierce and grilling" order. War talk should be deprecated, but one can hardly resist indulgence in the retort that the United States has not been in the habit of looking up a soft spot on which to light before bandying the retort courteous.

The federal government is cornered by the scientifically phrased query, "What is Scotch whisky?" Scotch whisky is popularly presumed to be the kind that it takes to make a Scotch highball.

Manager Lennon, of St. Paul, seems to have been asleep at the switch. He should seek consolation in the ancient and honorable advice, "No use crying over spilled milk."

The Minneapolis ice trust will not be prosecuted because the district attorney got cold feet. That fellow down in Toledo last year seemed totally indifferent to chilblains.

President Roosevelt, it is said, is contemplating taking a hand in the telegraphers' strike. Look out for live wires!

It is a pleasurable anticipation that La Crosse is about to receive a boost that will send it into the going-some class.

Konetchy should make a hit with St. Louis—he was hitting 400 per cent in La Crosse.

PHYSICIAN'S WIT
Every doctor has had unpleasant experiences with the economical minded person who takes advantage of a casual meeting at the dinner table or elsewhere to importune him for counsel as to his ailments. It is not always easy to get rid of these pests.

Abernethy was, as we know, equal to the occasion when a wealthy alderman whom he met at a friend's house recited his catalogue of woes, ending up with the question: "What should I take?" The reply was: "Take advice."

A French doctor recently rid himself in an equally ingenious manner of a patient who sought to impose on his good nature. He was accosted one afternoon on a crowded boulevard by a lady notorious for this practice. She at once began to tell of her afflictions, making particular complaint of pain in her hypogastric region. To which the doctor gravely replied:

"My dear madam, I must examine you, be good enough to take off your things."—British Medical Journal

JUST LIFE

The Hen Crop.

Now it is claimed that the chicken crop will be short on account of the damp cold spring, and prices for poultry will be high. It is too far from Thanksgiving to commence worrying about the supply of turkeys at this season. However, if chickens are high this fall there will be a less number of old hens to lay eggs next season. If the eggs are high next season there will be fewer chickens hatched. If fewer chickens are hatched next season poultry will be still higher and the supply of old hens will be still less in the following years. Follow out this matter and it is almost conclusive that the backward spring of 1907 will eventually drive eggs up to the $1 per dozen mark and the price of poultry to prohibitive figures. The situation may not be as alarming as all this, but the lesson is, for Jackson county farmers to raise all the chickens they can and if there should happen to be a shortage of eggs and old hens the farmers will be in position to realize handsomely on the returns from their poultry yards. What eggs are sowed on the half-shell at 25 cents per shell, like oysters, they will be a great table luxury.—Back River Falls Journal.

Maud Muller and Her Maw.

Maud Muller on a winter's night, sat reading by the lamp's dull light. She had a book upon her knee. O'er which she studied carefully. She read of bargains to be had. Then told her mother and her dad. There were pictures in the book. And now and then her "maw" would look; And Maud would call her "paw" and say: "We kin get those things if we send away. Now maw she needs some shoes and a gown. Of course we can get them here in town. But they ain't so nice the people say As that we get from far away. Then, this book says, an' I guess it's true. That merchants here they just rob you." Now Maudie's "paw" had sold some stock. And had ninety dollars in his sock. So Maud she wrote and sent away. For gown, and shoes and bonnet gay. Two weeks later by fast freight. The goods came "collect, $2.98." When Maudie's "maw" tried on the dress, Her heart was surely in distress; It fit her like a gunny sack, And sagged and wrinkled in the back. The shoes they were a size too small. She couldn't get them on at all; And Maudie's hat? It was a fright, And Maud she shed some tears that night. Next day she drove into the town, Called at the store of Merchant Brown. And bought a dress and shoes for "maw." And an overcoat for her dear "paw." And after viewing this and that, She got herself a pretty hat. At home that night around the fire, The Muddled family filled with ire. Looked at the book that caused their woe, And soon it made the fire to glow; And Maud she said: "No more I'll pen An order to mail order men." Price Current.

Our "City Beautiful"

In the following the editor of the Brownsville (Minn.) NEWS intimates what he COULD do to La Crosse's claim to the City Beautiful, if he took a notion: "La Crosse is advertising itself as The City Beautiful. La Crosse has some pretty private residences and grounds, and its public buildings are good, and the streets and parks are passable, but far from being beautiful. The parks have not a shrub, or a vine, or a statue, a fountain, or a flower in them. Nothing but a green sward (not very green) and trees planted in straight rows. The water trough on State street, and the one at Cameron park square are not pretty, certainly far from beautiful. If we entertained a feeling of malice toward La Crosse and were vulgar, we would characterize its school grounds as horrid examples of debauchery, not fit to be seen, certainly not to be classed among the things termed beautiful. So we could go on specializing, but we hear the good people of La Crosse say, 'Don't, you have said quite enough.' So we will only add, that much remains to be done along the lines indicated to entitle the city to the term adopted." W. V. K.

5700 Misses' Box Plaited Skirt,
14 and 16 years.
MISSSES' SEVEN GORED BOX
PLAITED SKIRT 5700.

Unquestionably the plaited skirt is the preeminent favorite for young girls and every fresh variation finds its place. Here is a mode, that gives a double box plaited effect and that is eminently graceful and attractive. In the illustration it is made of one of the pretty novelty veillings with trimmings of narrow braid, but the list of suitable materials includes almost everything seasonable. Pongee, both plain and fancy, is being greatly worn and is admirable for skirts of the sort whether they are made with waist to match or to be worn with lingerie blouses, mohair is much in vogue, serge white and colored, is well liked and there are also numberless other suitings and skirtings that can be utilized. Trimming is always a matter of taste but this season there are certain tendencies that are much to be commended. Braid applied after some such simple design as the one illustrated is much in use, bias and cross bands of the material and bands of contrasting silk are greatly liked while the plain stitched hem is always correct for the simpler skirt.

The skirt is cut in seven gores and is arranged in a succession of double box plaits, the closing being made invisibly at the back.

The quantity of material required for the sixteen year size is 7½ yards 27 or 32 or 4½ yards 44 inches wide with 18 yards of braid to trim as illustrated.

The pattern 5700 is cut in sizes for girls of 14 and 16 years of age and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two-cent stamp more

The Great Alaskan Story
BY REX BEACH

"Nobody came near Glenister's house except Miss Chester," the man replied.

"What?"

"The Judge's niece. We caught her by mistake in the dark."

Later, one of the men who had been with Voorhees at the Northern asked to see the receiver and told him:

"The chief won't believe that I saw Miss Chester in the dance-hall last night, but she was there with Glenister. She must have put him wise to our game or he wouldn't have known we were after him."

His hearer made no comment, but, when alone, rose and paced the floor with heavy tread while his face grew savage and brutal.

"So that's the game, eh? It's man to man from now on. Very well, Glenister, I'll have your life for that, and then—you'll pay, Miss Helen." He considered carefully. A plot for a plot. If he could not swap intrigue with these miners and beat them badly, he deserved to lose.

Now that the girl gave herself to their cause he would use her again and see how well she answered. Public opinion would not stand too great a strain, and although he had acted within his rights last night, he dared not go much further. Diplomacy, therefore, must serve. He must force his enemies beyond the law and into his trap. She had passed the word once; she would do so again.

He hurried to Stillman's house and stormed into the presence of the Judge. He told the story so artfully that the Judge's astonished unbelief yielded to rage and cowardice, and he sent for his niece. She came down, white and silent, having heard the loud voices. The old man berated her with shrewish fury, while McNamara stood silent. The girl listened with entire self-control until her uncle made a reference to Glenister that she found intolerable.

"Hush! I will not listen!" she cried, passionately. "I warned him because you would have sacrificed him after he had saved our lives. That is all. He is an honest man, and I am grateful to him. That is the only foundation for your insult."

McNamara, with apparent candor, broke in:

"You thought you were doing right, of course, but your action will have terrible consequences. Now we'll have riot, bloodshed, and Heaven knows what. It was to save all this that I wanted to break up their organization. A week's imprisonment would have done it, but now they're armed and belligerent and we'll have a battle tonight."

"No, no!" she cried. "There mustn't be any violence."

"There is no use trying to check them. They are rushing to their own destruction. I have learned that they plan to attack the Midas tonight, and I'll have fifty soldiers waiting for them there. It is a shame, for they are decent fellows, blinded by ignorance and misled by that young miner. This will be the blackest night the North has ever seen."

With this McNamara left the house and went in search of Voorhees, remarking to himself: "Now, Miss Helen—send your warning—the sooner the better. If I know those Vigilantes, it will set them crazy, and yet not crazy enough to attack the Midas. They will strike for me, and when they hit my poor, unguarded office, they'll think hell has moved North."

"Mr. Marshal," said he to his tool. "I want you to gather forty men quietly and to arm them with Winchester. They must be fellows who won't faint at blood—you know the kind. Assemble them at my office after dark, one at a time, by the back way. It must be done with absolute secrecy. Now, see if you can do this one thing and not get balled up. If you fail, I'll make you answer to me."

"Why don't you get the troops?"

ventured Voorhees. Come back tomorrow when it's all over."

"If there's one thing I want to avoid, it's soldiers, either here or at the mines. When they step in, we step out, and I'm not ready for that just yet." The receiver smiled sinisterly.

Helen meanwhile had fled to her room, and there received Glenister's note through Cherry Malotte's messenger. It rekindled her worst fears and bore out McNamara's prophecy. The more she read of it the more certain she grew that the crisis was only a question of hours, and that with darkness, Tragedy would walk the streets of Nome. The thought of the wrong already done was lost in the lonely girl's terror of the crime about to happen, for it seemed to her she had been the instrument to set these forces in motion, that she had loosed this swift-speeding avalanche of greed, hatred, and brutality. And when the crash should come—the girl shuddered. It must not be. She would shriek a warning from the house-tops even at the cost of her uncle, of McNamara, and of herself. And yet she had no proof that a crime existed. Although it all lay clear in her own mind, the certainty of it arose only from her intuition. If only she were able to take a hand—if only she were not a woman. Then Cherry Malotte's words about Struve returned to her. "A bottle of wine and a woman's face." They brought back the lawyer's assurance that those documents she had safeguarded all through the long spring-time journey really contained the proof. If they did, then they held the power to check this impending conflict. Her uncle and the boss would not dare continue if threatened with exposure and prosecution. The more she thought of it, the more urgent seemed the necessity to prevent the battle of tonight. There was a chance here, at least, and the only one.

Adding to her mental torment was the constant vision of that face in the curtains at the Northern. It was her brother, yet what mystery shrouded this affair, also? What kept him from her? What caused him to sink away like a thief discovered? She grew dizzy and hysterical.

Struve turned in his chair as the door to his private office opened, then leaped to his feet at sight of the gray-eyed girl standing there.

"I came for the papers," she said. "I knew you would." The blood went out of his cheeks, then surged back up to his eyes. "It's a bargain, then?"

She nodded. "Give them to me first."

He laughed unpleasantly. "What do you take me for? I'll keep my part of the bargain if you'll keep yours. But this is no place, nor time. There's riot in the air, and I'm busy preparing for tonight."

"But must. The blood of those men will run on me if I don't stop this tragedy." If those papers tell the tale I think they do. I can call off my uncle and make McNamara give back the mines. You said Struve told you the whole scheme. Did you see the proof?"

"No, I have only his word, but he spoke of those documents repeatedly, saying they contained his instructions to tie up the mines in order to give a foothold for the law-suits. He bragged that the rest of the gang were in his power and that he could land them in the penitentiary for conspiracy. That's all."

"It's the only chance," said Helen. "They are sending soldiers to the Midas to lie in ambush, and you must warn the Vigilantes." Cherry paled at this and ejaculated:

"Good Lord! Roy said he'd lead an attack tonight." The two stared at each other.

"If I succeed with Struve I can stop it all—all of this injustice and crime—everything."

TO PEOPLE WHO SUFFER PAINS AND ACHES AND TO THOSE WHO WISH TO REMAIN HEALTHY AND ENJOY HAPPY, LONG LIFE, THIS INVITATION COMES

Science has been melancholy for centuries, for it failed to discover the elixir of life until the advent of Chiropractic science. Up to that time science sought among minerals, herbs, roots, knives, and other things to find what might relieve all human suffering and to eliminate terror of death from the human family. But alas! It did not succeed until Chiropractic appeared. This unique, philosophic science, first time in the history of healing sciences, points at a very different source where men of scientific ability should seek the CAUSE of disease and HOW to relieve it.

IMPINGED NERVES ARE THE CAUSE OF DISEASE IN ANIMAL ECONOMY.

This great discovery was made some years ago by a great thinker, Dr. D. D. Palmer, Davenport, Iowa. He has demonstrated his proposition by relieving the impinged nerve whereby removing the CAUSE of disease and making sick people well. The application of the principles of this great science has demonstrated its ability in making well from 80 to 95 per cent of people suffering from so-called incurable chronic diseases. This statement challenges any one who doubts its absolute truthfulness. Men and women who are used to read patent medicine advertisements are skeptical with regard to the verity of this statement, or those who have not looked into the wonderland of science, fail to realize the scientific possibility and smile incredulously when they read or hear anything like this statement.

COME AND SEE YOU DOUBTING THOMAS.

Anything genuine courts its investigation. You, intelligent people, if you want to find what is true and what is not, come and investigate Chiropractic. You disgrace your intelligence if you neglect to investigate this science and simply shake your little heads. Because one science has failed to relieve human suffering, it is no reason why all other sciences should make same failure, or because one science is thirty centuries old, therefore no new science can excel the old. Remember, the Greeks thought the world was flat, and they had some adherents even until the time of Columbus. Did you ever dream some fifty years ago that words would fly through the air, as Marconi demonstrated it through wireless telegraphy? It would be a disgrace to our civilization if we had nothing new to add to the old method of healing arts.

GENERAL MISCONCEPTION WITH REGARD TO THE VIRTUE OF THE APPLICATION OF CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENT.

Those who have forsaken medicine because it has failed to relieve them, and therefore have some faith in some other methods of drugless healing have, very unfortunately, little conception as to the magnitude of chiropractic science. Since it does not administer drugs, they imagine that it is good only for rheumatism and stomach troubles, but it cannot cope with any serious organic diseases. This provokes a smile on one who has made a thorough study of this science and has applied its principles for the purpose of relieving human suffering. A competent Chiropractor leaves stomach aches and "colds" to "cough drops" and "peppermint" to "coax away the irritation." He undertakes to relieve some deep-seated organic disease when all other system of healing sciences have been defeated. From that time on, the battle falls into the hands of a competent Chiropractor.

WHY DEEP SEATED ORGANIC DISEASES YIELD TO CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENT.

Chiropractic is capable of discovering the CAUSE of disease, not effect, by locating sub-luxations—slight dislocation of the backbone. This disturbance is the cause of all disease, with the exception of direct injury done to some organs or nerves or some other portion of human anatomy. Let some one smile on this proposition, and I ask him to explain to me the CAUSE of disease in some other way. No medical books on etiology, young or old, ever approach in its scientific verity this mathematical proposition—sub-luxation of vertebrae as the only true and scientific explanation of the CAUSE of human disease. The Chiropractor does not blame the stomach for the existence of a disease in the liver, or blame heart trouble as producing disease in the lungs, or kidney disease as the cause of heart disease, or kidney disease for cerebro-tumor, or injury to the head as the cause of disease in the rectum, or desentery as the cause of the trouble in the peritonium, or falling star as the producing of headaches, or—well, blaming one thing for another's disturbance, is not logic, but it is a pseudo-science.

The average man or woman who has not studied either anatomy or physiology is bewildered why sub-luxations of the vertebrae produce disease, for instance, consumption or tumor. It is thought by some that consumptive people "are born." I have seen some suffering with pulmonary tuberculosis among very powerful people, physically. Any person, strong or weak, physically, is liable to be affected by consumption of the lungs, if a sub-luxation exists in such a person impinging upon the nerves controlling the functions of the lungs. Any organ in a living animal body cannot work when the power—called by the Chiropractor "brain impulse"—is interrupted. That the brain impulse is the motive power in organic function has been demonstrated by the Chiropractor and also even by some advanced thinkers among the old school of healing sciences. The brain is likened to the electric battery and the organ the burner. The nerve is likened to the conducting cord to transmit the power. When connection is broken between the brain and other organs, death is an instant result. No matter, of what character, disease is the result of an abnormal manifestation of the organic function due to interrupted brain impulse. This interference is due to the obstruction of two solid substances impinging upon the soft nerve matter. If an impingement is very heavy, the nerve deadens, the result being total paralysis of the organ which is controlled by such a nerve. If the impingement is slight, the nerve is abnormally excited, producing diseases of inflammatory character, etc., etc. The interference of the transmission of the brain impulse to any organ takes place only at the spinal opening when one or more vertebrae are sub-luxated. If the nerve controlling the stomach is impinged, the result is a stomach disease, if that of the lung, the lung disease, if that of the kidney, kidney disease, etc., etc. If the atlas is sub-luxated, we have an insane person.

HOW THE CHIROPRACTOR ANALYSES COMPLEX SYMPTOMS AND DEDUCE FROM THEM TO THE PRIMARY CAUSE OF DISEASE BY NERVE AND TRACING.

According to the old school of medicine, the study of symptoms is a very important part of its practice. Without very carefully study of them, no physician belonging to the "regular" school will proceed to treat disease. A competent Chiropractor ASKS NO QUESTION WHATEVER HOW PATIENT FEELS.

HOW THE VERTEBRAE ARE SUB-LUXATED.

Some standard authorities in anatomy say that backbones cannot be dislocated without killing the individual outright. That might be. We are not talking about dislocation; we are considering sub-luxations—slight vertebral disturbance. Why should not backbones slightly get out of place? We know a tree bends before it breaks. Backbones get out of place without breaking. If you doubt, come and see. Some times sub-luxation is produced by mis-step or by straining; some times in bed when the muscles are relaxed and the individual suddenly turns or awakens with horrible dreams, but most of the time it is produced by the fall. It is not always a great fall that produces a large sub-luxation; it entirely depends upon the manner in which the individual falls that produces a bad luxation. Nor is it always the case that a sub-luxation develops disease immediately after it has been produced. In some cases after weeks, months and even years before well defined symptoms appear. If you don't believe, come and see.

SUB-LUXATION IS ADJUSTED.

The Chiropractor does not "treat" diseases. They are simply effects; and no CAUSE can be removed by treating effect. THE CHIROPRACTOR REMOVES THE CAUSE OF DISEASE BY ADJUSTING THE SUB-LUXATED VERTEBRAE WHEREBY RELIEVING THE IMPINGED NERVE. Cause cannot be treated; only effect can be treated. Chiropractor adjust sub-luxated vertebrae; other methods TREAT the effect. If you doubt, come and see.

CHIROPRACTIC IS NOT OSTEOPATHY NOR IS IT A PART OF OSTEOPATHY AS IS CLAIMED BY SOME THOUGHTLESS OSTEOPATHS.

The difference between these two sciences is just as much as that between Allopathy and Osteopathy. Chiropractic is no more osteopathy than a dead dog would be osteopathy. Some osteopaths who have studied both these sciences say that Chiropractic is centuries ahead of osteopathy. Chiropractic is simple, as all great things are simple: it is specific, accurate, and precise. Chiropractic philosophy is capable of reducing all diseases to their PRIMARY CAUSE, and points at EACH SPECIFIC CAUSE AS THE PRODUCER OF THE SPECIFIC EFFECT. The Chiropractor never says "it might," or "might have been." He shows you in a mathematical figure the relation of CAUSE to EFFECT. If you doubt, come and see.

CHIROPRACTIC AS A PHILOSOPHY.

Chiropractic is not only SCIENCE but it is also a PHILOSOPHY. It embraces the sciences of the mind and those of the body and harmonize them into ONE COMPLETE WHOLE. If you doubt, come and see.

COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELVES.

If possible, try to disprove these propositions, and if you defeat a competent Chiropractor, Chiropractic is not what it is claimed to be. A man who has the "genuine goods" court your investigation. There is no need of your suffering pains and aches any longer WHEN CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENT SKILLFULLY APPLIED REMOVES THE CAUSE OF DEEP-SEATED ORGANIC DISEASES. If you doubt, come and see. The Chiropractor charges you nothing for consultation and examination. Office at the McMillan Building, La Crosse, Wis.

CALEDONIA, Minn., June 29.—(Special).—John P. Kennedy of St. Paul, has been secured to deliver the oration at the celebration of July 4th. Mr. Kennedy was born on a farm about four miles east of Caledonia, educated in the district schools of his district and later spent a couple of years in the public schools of Caledonia. He taught country school and afterwards went into the railroad mail service and made his headquarters at La Crosse. Meantime he was devoting his spare time to the study of law and in 1904 he went before the board of examiners of law for Wisconsin and passed a flattering examination. He continued in the mail service devoting his spare time to the practice in La Crosse until about six months ago when he left La Crosse and located in St. Paul where he is building up a successful practice. His old friends and neighbors will extend him a royal welcome when he speaks here on the 4th.

Old Resident Dead

Thursday, June 27, the Caledonia Commercial went to Mabel to play ball with Harmony at the old settlers' celebration. They won out by score of 3 to 1. Eiken is rapidly rounding into old time form and if any of the "coons" see first base it will be a wonder.

SHOT BY MARSHAL

O. C. Thompson of Sandstone Dies at St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—O. C. Thompson, of Sandstone, Minn., died at the city hospital from a gunshot wound received in a fight with the town marshal at Sandstone.

The authorities at Sandstone have been wired of Thompson's death, and as soon as a reply is received an autopsy will be held on the body.

Thompson, who had a quarrelsome disposition while under the influence of liquor, became intoxicated Tuesday night and raised a disturbance. When he became offensive the town marshal attempted to place Thompson under arrest. Thompson ran from the marshal and, securing an ax, stood at bay and dared the officer to touch him. When the marshal attempted to close with Thompson the latter attacked him with the ax, and had not the marshal shot Thompson, he would in all probability have been killed himself.

SURRENDERS TO POLICE

EVELETH, Minn., June 29.—Angelo Guigarrala, the alleged slayer of Bruno Romano, has given himself up to the police at Spokane. Chief of Police Nick Kent has received the following telegram from the chief of police of Spokane:

"Italian surrendered himself here today for alleged murder in your town the Fourth of July. What are the facts? Is reward offered? Will sheriff come?"

An immediate reply was made to the message and Mayor Jermore called up Sheriff Bates at Duluth on the phone and gave him the facts.

A reward of $50 to pay the expenses of bringing Guigarrala to Minnesota has been offered by an uncle of the slain man.

At noon last Fourth of July during a quarrel over cards Guigarrala was put out of Joe Red's saloon, in the old McNinis block, and, it is alleged, he pulled a revolver that he had bought the day before, fatally shot Romano and wounded Basilio Cervess. Running at full speed and turning with his revolver on those who pursued him, Guigarrala held all at bay until he had reached the thickest east of the city, where he disappeared. His revolver was picked up at the Fayal mine and turned over to Kent, who was a patrolman at that time. All the afternoon and evening Kent sought the man in the woods, but unsuccessfully, no aid being given, though requested by Officer Kent.

REV. STUB DEAD

ST. PAUL, June 29.—Rev. Hans A. Stub died at the home of his son, Prof. Hans G. Stub, Capitol and Hamline avenues, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The cause of his death was old age—he was 85 years old. Rev. Stub was one of the first Norwegian Lutheran ministers to come to the northwest.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—The supreme court in a decision handed down yesterday sustains the findings of the Winona county district court in the case of Edward W. Williams, respondent, vs. Laura F. Williams, appellant.

The parties are prominent and wealthy residents of Winona, and their appearance in supreme court circles is due to divorce proceedings in the lower court in which the husband was victorious. The only stipulation was that he should pay her $1,000 living expenses annually.

Cruel and inhuman treatment was the plea of the wife which was continual nagging on the part of the wife to the effect that he was unduly intimate with several of his female office employees.

She, according to the evidence, discussed her grievances in public.

She permitted her anger to go to the extent of offering parties $150 to tar and feather him, $5 to shoot him and $5 to hold him while she horsewhipped the supposed custodian of her hubby's affections.

Again, she was president of the local humane society, and, according to the allegations, she made life further a burden by installing sick horses and dogs in his home. Generally speaking, life was anything but a joy, he told the court, and in this the supreme tribunal agrees with him.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

DULUTH—Northern Minnesota is in the grip of an epidemic of diphtheria, and in some of the smaller towns on the range practically one-fourth of the inhabitants are said to be ill with the disease. Numerous deaths have been reported, and the health authorities have been making strenuous efforts to check the disease.

STILLWATER—The contract for grading the new prison site for the new buildings will be concluded tomorrow. The ground is ready for building operations, but no movement has yet been made in that direction for the reason that the Omaha railway and the two roads interested with it in providing trackage have not commenced to grade for the spur tracks. Railway officials claim that it is due to inability to get men to put in the track.

ATLANTIC—At imminent risk to himself, Abraham Walker descended into a well at Massena and rescued Michael Johnson, who had been overcome by foul gases. Johnson was at work at the bottom of the well, and when the men at the top failed to get any answer to their signal Walker volunteered to go down and see what was the matter. He found Johnson lying apparently dead at the bottom of the well, but he fastened a rope about him and had him hauled up. He then tied the rope about his own body and gave the signal to hoist.

MITCHELL, S. D.—The South Dakota Holiness association holds its annual camp meeting in this city for a period of two weeks, beginning on Friday of this week. The meeting will be conducted under an immense tabernacle tent and the preaching will be done by Rev. Mr. Glasscock.

WAUKESHA, Wis.—Conrad Holland, fifty-four years old, a quarry man, is dead and Frank Schneider, proprietor of a saloon and hotel at Lannon, and Henry Salmon, a creamery employee of the town of Lisbon are locked up in the county jail on a charge of murder as the result of a fight which is said to have started in Schneider's saloon Sunday night and ended in the street.

ALBERT LEA, Minn.—Delegates have been arriving to attend the conference of the Iowa district of the Norwegian Lutheran church. The reception committee met all trains with conveyances.

MANKATO, Minn.—John Foss of Lakefield drew a sight draft on a Lakefield bank for $30, and is alleged to have signed his brother's name to it. R. H. Trosin indorsed the paper and it was cashed by the Citizens State bank. Trosin soon learned of the alleged forgery and caused Foss' arrest. His brother arrived the following evening, but refused to make up the bank's loss. John Foss was then held to the grand jury.

MARSHFIELD, Wis.—William Morrison, employed in the Connel sawmill at Stratford, was struck in the back of the head yesterday afternoon by a piece of iron and died two hours later. The breaking of a piece of machinery called the hog caused pieces to fly in all directions and it was one of these flying fragments that hit Mr. Morrison.

MANKATO, Minn.—A street railway is now assured in Mankato, to be built entirely by local capital. A syndicate of local capitalists agreed to put up $50,000. The last $2,000 was subscribed today and material has been telegraphed for.

HAYWARD, Cal.—Because they are leg, the town authorities have failed to refuse to rid the town of drunkards and other immoral characters. A number of young men have organized a "vice committee" and are now visiting the courts and the town hall.

WANTS JUVENILE COURT IN CITY

HUMANE OFFICER BERRY IS CON-VINCED OF MERIT

MANY BOYS GET IN TROUBLE

Which Could Be Adjusted Without Wrecking Their Lives if Proper Tribunal Existed Here

Lack of a juvenile court here is deplored by Humane Officer Charles H.
Berry, who claims that an institution of this kind is of peculiar advantage to every community. Only a week ago Mr. Berry was forced to send a girl to the industrial school, who should have been otherwise disposed of.

The excellent work of the juvenile court is well illustrated in the examination and disposition of a boy of 14 years of age of the name of Joseph Connolly, brought before Judge Orr
at St. Paul for stealing a pistol.

This boy lived on Park avenue with his parents. Not far away a neighbor was moving from his house to another home and nearly all the goods and belongings had been carried away. Connolly wandering over the house, found and appropriated a pistol and was arrested and brought before the juvenile court.

His appearance, demeanor and conduct were such as to lead the judge to inquire whether or not there was anything abnormal about the lad.

The offense called for the imposition of punishment and the court sentenced the defendant to the training school with a suspension of sentence and the assignment of the boy to the probation officer, Mr. Graves.

The boy was then turned over to a physician who on examining him reported to the court that Connolly was 50 per cent below the normal physically, and of a low intelligence because his physical condition had not permitted his mental advancement.

Arrangements were thereupon made to send the boy to the City hospital for treatment.

CONFERS WITH MAYOR

President Behrens Assured Work Will Be Hurried

President Theodore Behrens of the Northwestern Saengerbund who has been in La Crosse for several days looking over the preparations being made here for the reception of the big saengerfest to be held next summer, yesterday had a meeting with Mayor Anderson, and Alderman G. A.
Keller, concerning the proposed auditorium for which an appropriation has been made by the city.

Mr. Behrens will make a tour of eighty-four of the principal cities of the Northwest immediately after leaving La Crosse, and will report to every society the progress being made here in the auditorium plans.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon, the saengerfest officials were assured that every possible impetus will be given to the auditorium proposition, and that this will be in readiness for the event.

He Leaves Note Which Is a Police Puzzle

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Pinned to a tree on the shore of a small lake
in the outskirts of the city today Sergeant Bartfeld of the mounted police found a note which read: "I myself, Julian Hafter, committed suicide on June 26, 1907. Good-by to all."

Two squads of police searched
vainly about the lake for a dead man until some one thought of looking in the city directory. The name of Moses Hafter of 1365 North Euclid avenue was found and the investigators went to the address. They found Julian Hafter, 12 years old. "It was my doll that committed suicide," he said. "We had been playing near the lake, and when I found out the doll wanted to die I wrote the note
for her and threw her into the water."

W. W. Scott Starts Work
This Morning

W. W. Scott today began taking the school census with a crew of enumerators who started out from the office of the board of education this morning. Within the next ten days every house in La Crosse will be canvassed and the enumerators will take a record of every child in the city
between the ages of 4 and 20 years.

Each enumerator will be given a war, and it shall be his duty to get the name of all children in his district. Mr. Scott will personally check over the work of the enumerators,
and when he finds any omissions
in the records, the district will be gone over a second time, so as to insure him that they are correct.
$300 is the sum appropriated by the board of education for this purpose.

Edward J. Conway, the well known local theatrical man, has engaged to give a benefit society burlesque play at the theater soon for the La Crosse Baseball association.

The date will be decided later.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

World's Greatest Cue Experts May Come Here

Al M. Kahn, agent for the world's billiard champions, Jacob Schaefer and George Sutton, is in La Crosse for a few days and while here will probably sign terms for an exhibition game between the two experts with the cue, for some date this winter to be held in the Elks' club or the La Crosse club. The former is preferred as more room will be at the disposal of the enthusiasts of the game.

If the agreement is made with the Elks it has been arranged to have a billiard table installed in the large auditorium upstairs and have seats built to accommodate a large attendance.

In case the game is arranged it will give the La Crosse enthusiasts a chance to see the world's greatest billiard players. Mr. Schaefer is the greatest 18.1 ball line player and Mr. Sutton won the first prize in the 18.2 ball line tournament last year.

CROWDS ARE SMALLER

Fewer People Visit Park Since Charge Is Made

According to the comparison of the number of bridge passes issued up to the present time, and to a similar time last year, the present system of issuing passes over the Mississippi river wagon bridge is proving very unpopular and complaints are coming in from all sides. Under the present system a charge of 10 cents is made for a pass book, and it is estimated that only one-third as many people will visit Pettibone park and the public baths. The announcement that the 10 cents would be refunded when the cover of the pass book was returned to the treasurer's office appears to have little effect, because many people do not attend the bath or visit the park more than a dozen times and therefore their book would not be empty.

DREAMED OF A FIRE

And, Waking, Priest Finds It a Reality

EVANSVILLE, Ind., June 29.—A premonition which came to Rev. Father Rowan in a dream at 3 o'clock in the morning saved the new St. Joseph Catholic school building from being totally destroyed by fire. He says a feeling that he never before experienced came over him, and that he hurriedly got up, and, looking from the window, saw the school building in flames. He turned in an alarm and the fire department succeeded in saving the building from destruction. The loss is about $4,000, and the building cost about $15,000. The school was to have been dedicated Sunday. Firemen discovered coal oil in the building, and believe the fire was of incendiary origin.

RUSHFORD IS A PROGRESSIVE CITY

"THE GEM OF SOUTHERN MINNESOTA," ITS TITLE

IS A BEAUTIFUL HOME CITY

Has Good Newspaper, Fine Stores, Excellent Schools and Is a Thriving Place.

RUSHFORD, Minn., June 29.—(Special.)—Rushford, "The Gem of Southern Minnesota," has a population of nearly fifteen hundred inhabitants and is one of the most enterprising little cities in the state of Minnesota.

The city is located on the Southern Minnesota division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and is about 30 miles west of La Crosse, Wis.

The business interests here are the best in this section of the state, with two banks—the First National and the Rushford State bank. Each one enjoys good healthy business and have a large capital stock with deposits that many times exceed their authorized capital.

The merchants here are keen and alert, carrying a new and complete line of goods.

The stores are large and airy and are well lighted, and are built with a view of showing off their goods to the best advantage.

Rushford has good hotel facilities. There are three hostleries here, the Northwestern, the Park hotel and the City hotel.

The city has its own electric lighting system with a day current that is furnished by a storage battery.

The city has a system of water works that is second to none in the state.

Has Good Newspaper.

The city has one good newspaper, the Rushford Star-Republican, published by Mr. C. L. Foss. The publication is newsy and spicy, with a "make-up" that is above the average in country journalism, while the "ads" the paper carries speak more eloquently than words regarding its circulation and the confidence the merchants have in the paper's pulling qualities.

Excellent School System.

Rushford has as good a school system as can be found in the northwest. It has a fine stone building recently erected at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars. The schools here are on the accredited list with the state university.

Fine Band.

The city has an excellent military band composed of nearly forty pieces. The city donates liberally to the support of the organization. The band gives open air concerts one or more nights during the week, which are attended by the country folk for many miles around.

The citizens of Rushford are mostly of the retired class, who have selected this beautiful little city to spend the rest of their days in, and as a consequence have erected large handsome and substantial dwellings, which add greatly to the beauty of the city.

The city takes great civic pride in its streets, which are wide and well kept, with good cement walks running over the entire city.

There is a beautiful park centrally located with ample shade, while sprinkled here and there throughout the park are seats and other resting places that add to the charms of such privileges.

There is ample shade in the city. The stately elms and the towering maples add to its beauty and with the large spacious and well kept lawns truly make Rushford the "Gem of Southeastern Minnesota."

GIRL'S DEATH DUE TO THUG GANG

FARGO, N. D., June 29.—All doubt that Grace Burns had been mistreated and murdered was removed by the post-mortem. She had been struck a blow in the head which would have proved fatal, and in addition to this she had been choked and was dead before her body was thrown into the river.

Abby Grundeen, 14 years old, a messenger in a Fargo bank, appears to have been the last one to see the girl alive. He was in bathing on the Moorhead side of the river late Friday afternoon, the day the girl disappeared, and when he was returning to town about 7 o'clock he saw Grace Burns sitting in some underbrush between the Great Northern depot and the river, and he spoke to her. She told him she intended to remain there until 9 o'clock and then "skip out." The girl may have remained at that place and later been assaulted and killed by tramps who found her there. There is absolutely no clue to the murderer.

This is the fourth body that has been recovered from the river this summer. Three of these victims are known to have been murdered and two have not been identified. The conclusion has been reached that a gang of thugs has headquarters in Fargo and Moorhead. The people of both cities are much aroused, and efforts are being made to clear up the crime.

Mrs. Burns, the mother of the girl, is prostrated. She collapsed during the inquest.

Successful guilt is the bane of society.—Cyrus.

SENATOR MORRIS RETURNS FROM METING

MILWAUKEEANS DRAW PLANS

Will Take Most of Summer to Complete Them—Morris Vice President of Normal Board Again

Plans for the building of the La Crosse normal school will be drawn by Van Ryan and DeGallie of Milwaukee, the board of regents awarding the work to this firm at its meeting in Madison this week. Senator Thomas Morris, vice president of the board, returned home this morning. He was re-elected to that office for another year.

The work on the foundation of the new building will not be started until about the middle of September. The architects will not have the plans completed for six weeks and it will be a month before the bids are let for the work. As soon as the bids are let the ground will be broken for the building. Mr. Morris states that he does not expect to see more than the foundation in this fall, and the following spring the building will be erected.

The executive committee of the board, consisting of J. B. Peacock of Oconowoc, Senator Morris of La Crosse and C. R. McFarlane of Stevens Point, was authorized to take charge of the work.

It will be the middle of July before the present session of the legislature adjourns, states Senator Morris. There are a number of very important matters to be acted upon yet, and in all something like 150 bills for consideration. The legislators are about tired out, according to Mr. Morris, the long session having its effect on them.

WOMAN HOLDS

gun was brought into view all hurried to shelter to get out of the way of the lead which was ready for action.

Like a sun shower bursting into a storm, did the quarrel this morning develop. The sheriff's appearance with the papers, and the advent of Mr. Olson on the scene, was a mild and peaceable occurrence. About five minutes later Jesse Higbee, attorney for Mrs. Olson, moved into sight to take care of his clients' welfare. The sheriff departed and the trouble started. Mr. Olson tried to take possession of the place and resistance was offered by force by Mrs. Olson, who refused to allow her husband to get behind the counter. Several times she dashed at him and made passes for his face, but clever foot work got him out of the road.

Race for the Gun.

When the affray had warmed up considerably Olson started for the back door of the shop with a rush, but Mrs. Olson beat him to it by a head. She came back with a cry which he heard for blocks told Olson to stand back or she would shoot. Olson called across the street for a policeman and two came in. Mrs. Olson refused to hand over the gun, saying: "I will use this to protect myself for I can not get protection from the officers." When she would not give up the gun, which was stuck in her belt, the officers were compelled to take it away from her.

The trouble did not cease this afternoon, both Olson, his brother and Mrs. Olson staying on the premises, both intent on keeping the place. At noon Mrs. Olson slammed the front door and knocked out the large plate glass front.

Story of Case.

Last winter Mrs. Olson started proceedings in the circuit court before Judge Fruit, through her attorneys, Higbee & Higbee, to restrain Olson from entering the place, charging him with drunkenness and with beating her at various times. This injunction was granted by the court.

Recently Olson, through his attorney, Frank E. Withrow, started proceedings in the circuit court to dissolve partnership, the case being heard before Judge Stevens of Madison in the circuit court here Tuesday of this week. The court being for the defendant, the court found that no partnership existed and the business belonged to her.

Olson, through his attorney, started a new theory in the case, claiming that he owned a share of the business, and asked that a receiver be appointed and a temporary injunction be issued to restrain Mrs. Olson from interfering with his control of the business. Judge Fruit at Viroqua granted the injunction, and it was the papers in this case that were served this morning.

Before Mrs. Olson reached the establishment this morning Olson, his brother and one or two others were there and had taken the keys to the drawers inside. When Mrs. Olson endeavored to enter the cases and get the goods to send out to her customers Olson slammed them shut, and the trouble commenced.

WINS RICH WIDOW

CORONNA, Mich., June 29.—John T. McCurdy, son of Judge Hugh McCurdy, is to wed Mrs. C. C. Miller of New York city at her home next week. Her late husband was identified with the east.

BIG INS. COMPANIES THREATEN TO QUIT

LOBBYISTS TELL SENATE PROPOSED LAWS ARE DRASTIC

OTHER WORK OF YESTERDAY

Cash Road Tax Killed—Vickburg Appropriation Passed—Nye Tax Plan Slain

MADISON, Wis., June 29.—(Special.)—"If this legislation is passed in its present form the New York Life Insurance company will withdraw from this state, as in Texas, and other companies will follow."

This was the closing argument and threat of Edward O'Brien, the attorney for the New York Life Insurance company, before the senate in an insurance hearing last evening. He contended the proxy system should be retained and that the bill requiring the company to render a statement on the individual policy, annually, of the amounts reserved and expended, should not be passed. It was too radical. It would cost the company $120,000 to make out these accounts and take years to do the labor. He wanted an amendment made to the bill which would require the insurance company to furnish such a statement upon the request of the policy holder.

Upon this point he was corroborated by John M. Olin, who appears as the attorney for the Northwestern Life Insurance company. Mr. Olin made a long argument against the insurance bills, much of it personal, directed at the method used by Speaker Ekern in taking the floor and forcing the bills through the assembly.

Speaker Ekern in replying said the lobbyists were well paid for making these arguments. He claimed that the result of the proxy system was shown in the Northwestern, where the same men were retained for almost ages as officers. The voting should be by person or mail. In reply to the criticism made by Attorney O'Brien he declared that the individual statements should be mailed without the request. It was information to which the policyholders were entitled, and he quoted from a book by the famous actuary, Miles Dawson, a Wisconsin boy, who declared that the objection to furnishing the statement was that it stripped the question of insurance of its mystery.

Cash Road Tax Killed.

For a number of years there has been an agitation in the state in favor of paying road taxes in money. It has been shown under the system where every man works his own tax by hauling gravel the work is often slighted. Under the cash system only one-third as much tax would need to be levied and the roads could be improved in a systematic manner. This idea was endorsed by the senate but the assembly has defeated the proposal by a large vote.

Colonnade at Vicksburg

A monument, colonnade or other permanent structure, at the cost of $10,000 will be built at Vicksburg by the state in memory of the Wisconsin soldiers in that battle. The bill making the appropriation was passed by the assembly last night and now goes to the governor. About the only objection was by Assemblyman Cernehan of Eau Claire, who claimed the structure should be erected in Wisconsin, so some Wisconsin people would be inspired by it.

Assemblymen Ties and McGorger, both participants in the battle of Vicksburg, made speeches in favor of the bill. The plan is to preserve this battle field as a national cemetery and to restore the breastworks and grounds, as nearly as possible, as they were at the time of the engagement.

Turns Down Tax Plan

The assembly killed the Nye bill relating to the taxation of railroad terminals. A measure was passed at the last session of the legislature exempting certain railroad terminals from state taxation and allowing the tax to be collected to the coffers of the local treasury.

This year the people, Superior, who are greatly interested in the plan, asked for further exemptions, but on the advice of the railroad commission the bill was killed.

No Security for Costs

Bancroft made another fight in the interests of the poorer classes. A few years ago a law was passed which compelled a poor person suing the city to put up security for costs which is about $250. Assemblyman Bancroft had a bill in to repeal this statute and in his absence the measure was killed. Yesterday he called the measure up and said that if a laborer was killed in some manner because of the negligence of the city, the widow, or other relative interested should be permitted to begin an action for damages without putting up $250 security. He said there were a number of persons who had good claims against cities, but on account of their poverty, were unable to prosecute their claims and obtain justice. This measure would grant relief. The bill passed the assembly by a strong vote.

HANG NEGRO—RESUME MEETING

RUBY, La., June 29.—Ralph Dorans, a negro, who assaulted Miss Minnie Taylor, 20 years of age, was lynched by a mob of 300 farmers here. The planters were holding a session of the Farmers' union, when a messenger brought word of the assault, and the capture of Dorans. The meeting was adjourned quickly, and the negro taken from the custody of Deputy Sheriff Richardson and hanged from a tree. The planters then resumed their meeting.

BLACK, ITCHING SPOTS ON FACE
Physicians Called It Eczema in Worst Form—Treated Disease for a Year but Could Not Cure It—Patient Became Despondent—Suffering Promptly Allayed and DREADFUL DISEASE CURED BY CUTICURA

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black spots all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoyance and suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of— After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good. Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. Shortly afterwards, my husband in reading a copy of a weekly New York paper saw an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. He purchased the entire outfit, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent in connection with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every spot on my face was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago. The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dreadful disease, eczema, but of other complicated troubles as well, and I have been the means of others being cured of the same disease by the Cuticura Remedies, and I don't hesitate in saying that Cuticura Resolvent is the best blood medicine that the world has ever known. Mrs. Lizzie E. Sledge, 540 Jones Ave., Selma, Ala., Oct. 28, 1905."

REV. EDWARDS OF RUSHFORD MARRIED
PRETTY CEREMONY AT CHATFIELD, MINN.
BISHOP EDSALL OFFICIATES
Bride Is Charming Girl of Chatfield and Groom Is Pastor of Church in Neighboring Town.

RUSHFORD, Minn., June 29.—(Special).—One of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in this part of the country was held at Chatfield, Tuesday of this week, when Miss Isabel Cole of that town was married to the Rev. Philip K. Edwards of Rushford. The marriage took place at St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Chatfield, at high noon. The church was beautifully decorated with syringa and ferns while the weather was ideal.

Miss Lulu Arnold of Rushford played the wedding march, and the marriage ceremony was very impressively performed by the Rt. Rev. S. C. Edsall. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Guy Edwards, who acted as best man.

The bridal party was ushered in by Mr. George Edwards of Minneapolis and Mr. Max Ballsinger of Chatfield. The bride's married sister, Mrs. Gilbert, was matron of honor, and her younger sister, Miss Kate Cole, was the bride's maid. Dr. Allen of Rochester gave the bride away.

After the ceremony a reception was given the bride by her aunt, Mrs. Cooper.

There were about fifty guests present among whom were eleven of the groom's friends from Rushford, the groom's parents and brothers of Minneapolis, Judge Wells and family of Preston, Bishop and Mrs. Edsall and the out of town relatives of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Edwards left on the 2:30 train. It is not supposed to be known where they are spending their honeymoon, but it is suspected they will be in Rushford in about three weeks where a reception will be given in their honor.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

BENEFITED

Miss Clutter's Hair

Read Her Letter About it:

"I herewith enclose you one of my latest photographs, which will show you what Newbro's Herpicide has done for my hair. Since using your remedy my hair is much longer than it was, and it has that lustre to it that ones hair always has when the scalp is in a healthy condition."

(Signed) MISS MADELINE CLUTTER, 3953 Michigan Avenue,
Flat 210. Chicago, Ill.

The immense popularity of Newbro's Herpicide, particularly among the better class, is due to the fact that it never disappoints. It does all and more than is claimed for it.

Its delightful fragrance, perfect clearness and freedom from grease or oil, appeal to the discriminating, and its cleansing, refreshing and health-giving effect upon the scalp is immediately apparent.

Herpicide makes the hair light and fluffy and gives it a silken gloss.

Extraordinarily long hair is a gift of Nature that relatively few possess, but not many would complain if they could save Nature's head covering in its original beauty and luxuriance.

The dandruff germ is the greatest enemy of abundant hair. This is on account of the highly contagious nature of dandruff, which makes it almost impossible to escape the disease without the occasional use of a germ destroying solution.

Newbro's Herpicide is the ORIGINAL remedy that "kills the dandruff germ." It promptly eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and, (except in chronic baldness) restores the hair to its former health and activity. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

MISS MADELINE CLUTTER,

HUMOR OF CIRCUS NOT SPONTANEOUS
A DEPARTMENT STUDIED AS ACROBATIC TURNS
PUBLIC WANTS ARE STUDIED
And When a Big Circus Like Barnum and Bailey Puts on Humor it is With Due Deliberation

Comedy in the circus is a long way from being spontaneous. It is not only carefully prearranged, but, in these busy days of rapid entertainment and changing ideas, the circus clown must be strictly up to date. It is not sufficient that his costume should be ridiculous and his physiognomy distorted by wigs and grease paint. His comedy must have an element of travesty in it—it must be, to a certain extent, a burlesque on things in the show or in every day life.

Tumult of Laughter
The Barnum & Bailey clowns evidently discovered this fact. There are probably forty of them, and, during the times they are in the three rings, or in the hippodrome track—and that is probably two-thirds of the time—they keep the great audience in a tumult of laughter. There are probably a hundred different clown comedies perpetrated during the performance, and while there are some that are more or less conventional, and can be recognized as old and genial friends, there are many that are new, and which appeal to the crowd because of the rich spirit for caricature that pervades them.

Burlesque Prize Fight
There is, for instance, the burlesque prize fight. The fighters are apparently dead in earnest, and the crowd encircling them, which is made up of clowns in every kind of grotesque motley, urges the combatants to greater efforts. In the midst of the "exciting" scene, there is a cry of "cop," and the next minute a miniature patrol wagon, drawn by a pair of small but gingery ponies, and driven by a clown policeman, comes dashing up. A squad of officers make a dash for the "sports," but only succeed in arresting a dummy, which is hustled into the "wagon" and hurried away to the station, with the other clowns following close behind. The spirit shown by the ponies, the speed with which the "wagon" is whirled around the hippodrome track, the realistic way in which the "prisoner" is handled, and the clank of the bell combine to give an effect that is irresistibly funny.

A Noted Clown
The clown who is responsible for this novel bit of up to date clowning is Steve Miacio, who is himself the son of an old time clown, Elf Miacio. The latter is sixty-five years of age, was a clown and acrobat when a boy and is still in the business. The son is in his thirty-third year, and is fairly bubbling over with original ideas. One of his clever conceits with the Barnum & Bailey show is a parachute jump. A great cannon is noisily trundled out upon the hippodrome track, and a clown quaking with well-simulated fear is bodily pushed into its cavernous mouth. When all is ready, Miacio cries, "Fire," and there is a tremendous explosion. "Look, look, there he comes," yell the clowns, and all eyes are turned toward the dome of the auditorium. Then comes the surprise. A big black dummy figure down comes a life-like dummy figure suspended from a parachute. The illusion for the moment is very real, and there is a big enough laugh when the audience discovers that the parachute jumper is only a "stuffed man." Efforts to copy this novel act have been only partially successful.

Ludicrous Acts
A third novel bit, introduced by Miacio, is a glances who, under the influence of a few bars from the band waltzes merrily with the clown. In the midst of the dance, the under part of the glances' body separates from the upper, and runs away, and Miacio continues to waltz with the head and trunk. His actions when he discovers that he has lost half of his partner's body, are ludicrous and laughable.

Danny Rya, who is a veritable and exceptionally ingenious clown, introduces among other novel bits, a cart drawn by six full-grown geese. The geese, of course, do not actually draw the cart. The cart has no bottom and the clown walks along inside it and pushes the vehicle along, but the geese have to be guided and they respond with very little urging. This is an especially novel bit for the children. Ryan's associates in this and other new clown acts are Ed Bartlett and Hugh Zorella, and they add greatly to the merriment of the clown interludes.

Dan Marville is another clown who illustrates a tendency of the modern fun-monger to keep up to the times. With two clever associates he wins many a laugh from the audience. Marville's first appearance is as a driver of a coupe. A farmer and his wife hail the "cabby," get into the coupe, and are driven down the track. Suddenly the horse, or rather the donkey, that is drawing the conveyance, starts to run and the two "fares" drop through the bottom and are spilled upon the track. This leads to a controversy between the driver and his two fares which ends in the "cabby" being landed on the track and the trick carriages driven away by the irate passenger with its owner excitedly following on foot.

Fun for the Little Folks
George Brown, an English clown, creates merriment among the children, and furnishes amusement for the grown-ups, by a series of odd stunts with a paper.

make head and a flowing tail, and at a little distance it is difficult to realize that the animal is not a horse in tiniest miniature.

Spader Johnson gives an imitation of a trombone soloist that is described as imitatively funny and many of his other "tricks" are new and timely. Like all the other leading clowns, Johnson uses a great many "properties" in his acts, and usually has several associates to assist him in his comedy creations.

Baseball Travesty
Frank Oakley, who is universally known as "Slivers," creates merriment by acting little travesties, in which he plays all the characters himself. One of the most ludicrous of these is a burlesque ball game. During the game the clown is at various times pitcher, catcher, fielder, short-stop, and batter. During his role as catcher the "man at the bat" hits a ball and sends it so high that the catcher is compelled to sit down and wait for it, while following the movements with a telescope. The catcher finally gets the ball, but much to his chagrin, the imaginary umpire says: "Not out." You don't hear him say it, but the catcher's actions leave no doubt of it in your mind. That leads to an argument, and in the end, the catcher is made the victim of the pugilistic umpire, and compelled to leave the field.

In this and other amusing stunts, "Slivers" wears costumes of marked originality, and yet so distinctively characteristic of himself that his advent upon the arena instantly arrests attention.

Must be Resourceful
In the old days the circus clown depended upon his songs and stories to create laughter in the audience. The modern Barnum & Bailey circus arena is so large that the voice would be entirely lost, and so the clown of today has developed into a pantomimist, he must create comedy without saying anything; he must depend entirely upon costuming, gestures and facial expression, re-enforced with clever "properties"—comedy automobiles, grotesque heads, automatic figures, trained dogs, pigs or donkeys—to make the audience "roar with laughter."

DISCUSS TEMPERANCE
Rev. Irish's Sunday School Class Takes It Up

Tomorrow at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday school the pastor's bible class will discuss the temperance question. The lesson will be especially interesting as various members have been appointed to discuss the different sides of the subject.

It is without doubt the largest Sunday school class in the city, having a membership of over sixty. Rev. J. W. Irish is the teacher and extends a cordial invitation to all interested to attend the class tomorrow.

OF THEATER BALCONY

SHEBOYGAN HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ESCAPE NARROWLY

WAS DURING COMMENCEMENT

Some Are Severely and Others Slightly Hurt in Unfortunate Opera House Crash.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., June 29.—A balcony crowded with students of the Sheboygan Falls high school, broke down during graduation exercises at the Woodman opera house at that city.

Bert Loudon of Sheboygan Falls, and Stedman Thomas, aged 18 years, who were standing directly under the balcony, were unable to escape and sustained severe injuries about the head and shoulders.

Over fifty people were under the structure at the time the accident occurred. At the sound of cracking timber all under the structure threw up their hands to ward off the falling mass of timber. This is what saved them, and prevented fatal injury.

The balcony was originally built to hold an orchestra for dancing, and the weight of twenty-five men proved too much.

STATE BRIEFS

BELOIT—August Johnson was caught under a falling casting at the Fairbanks shops, and eight ribs were broken. His condition is critical.

BEAVER DAM—Twenty-five seniors of the Beaver Dam high school graduated at the thirty-seventh annual commencement today. Two farces and an epilogue were features of the exercises.

RACINE—The body of Knut Hanson, 18 years old, who drowned last Sunday, will be shipped to his home in Denmark. The young man had been here only a few weeks, and had few friends.

ELKHART LAKE—The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association ended yesterday. About 160 members were in attendance.

BARABOO—The report that Ringling Bros. purchased land in Indian Territory for winter quarters is without foundation. Ringling Bros. circus proper will remain in Baraboo as the proprietors have recently purchased additional lands and are now making extensive improvements. The Forepaugh & Sells Bros. circus is under the management of August and Henry Ringling. The winter quarters are in Columbus, O., but a change is to be made.

RACINE—For more than two years the police have had all kinds of trouble with Maggie Montenegro, a 9 year old daughter of an Italian. Maggie took street car rides to Milwaukee and was frequently picked up at that place. Recently she entered the Salvation Army hall and stole a purse containing $30. Officers of the Salvation Army offered to take care of her. She had developed into a wonderful musical prodigy and was taken to Chicago and turned over to Mrs. Mills, captain of the army.

STATE TO CURB
SWOLLEN FORTUNES

MADISON, Wis., June 29.—(Special.)—Two important resolutions passed the assembly yesterday. One provides a constitutional amendment by submitting to the people the question of income tax. By a strong vote the assembly concurred in the resolution which it is intended to back up next session by a stringent law taxing the swollen fortunes and also concurred in the resolution for an amendment to the constitution for a direct vote on United States senators.

It killed the Ekern resolution to incorporate the civil service law as a part of the constitution.

Bancroft made a speech defeating it and saying it bound the hands of the future. It also refused the passage to the senate resolution to submit the laws to the people on petition. One blow of the axe killed thirty-two bills.

BANDITS CORNERED
BATTLE IS IMMINENT

APPLETON, Wis., June 29.—Bert Sager and his companion, who held up Sheriff M. M. Lockery on Wednesday morning, are still surrounded in the Rellen swamps near Medina by a big posse of farmers who have been sworn in as deputy sheriffs. They have had nothing to eat since Wednesday, and only swamp water. They are expected to make a dash for liberty at almost any time and a fight is looked for.

STREET CAR MEETS MOTOR

Girl Jumps and Is Badly Hurt—Car Demolished and all Crushed.

RACINE, Wis., June 29.—A car of the Milwaukee Electric railway and Electric Light company, south-bound, collided with the auto of Leo A. Peil, vice-president of the American Seating company, this evening at Park avenue and Eleventh street, wrecking the forward part of the auto, damaging the street car and injuring four persons in the machine.

Miss Leone Peil, 18 years old, when she saw a collision could not be avoided, jumped from the auto. Her nose was fractured, her face and head cut, and parts of her body were bruised. Mrs. Peil and another daughter remained in the rear seat of the car and sustained cuts. Chafeur Schulzen also remained in the car and was cut.

The automobile was running west and when an effort was made to stop the wheels slipped and carried the auto in front of the street car. The motorman, Eugene Buck, tried to stop the car, but could not.

Four miles west of the city a team of horses became frightened at an automobile today and ran away. William Peterson was thrown out; also Mrs. Hanson and daughter all being seriously injured.

Pongee Silk For Traveling Dresses. Empire Trimming Effects.

Pongee silk is here again and, like taffeta and foulard, has improved with age. For certain occasions there is nothing equal to it. As a traveling dress in gun metal, golden brown silk pongee, though a trifle expensive, is the best of all materials. It can be made as traveling dresses are made—with long coat and plaited skirt. And this season, out of regard for the fondness for hand embroidery, there can be a border of hand work around the hem, or the pongee can be trimmed with bands of taffeta arranged in pointed design.

When the shirt waist suits are to be considered—for the shirt waist suit is by no means dead—there are cheap silks that make up beautifully for the purpose. There is a lace taffeta that is the best shirt waist silk on the market.

For the empire effects both fringe and tassels are used for trimming, and some of the most expensive braids are set off by narrow fringe, such as are used for trimming bedroom curtains. Rosettes combining velvet ribbon and taffetas and chenille and lace are set at intervals in the trimming. These must be very small and Frenchy.

The plain blouses, with their studs and separate collar and cuffs, are unquestionably more complicated to carry out, but they are apt to look trim and smart much longer than the lingerie bodice, and, too, they give far more satisfactory wear, so that they bring their owners compensations.

The gown illustrated is of reseda green foulard silk dotted with black. The skirt is in three sections, edged with narrow velvet black ribbon, each of which has a straight lower edge. The yoke is of heavy lace.

Too Much Curiosity.

A dangerous operation was being performed upon a woman. Old Dr. A., a quaint German, full of kindly wit and professional enthusiasm, had several younger doctors with him. One of them was administering the ether. He became so interested in the old doctor's work that he withdrew the cone from the patient's nostrils, and she half roused and rose to a sitting posture, looking with wild eyed amazement over the surroundings. It was a critical period, and Dr. A. did not want to be interrupted. He said to the younger doctor: "You have been meddling."

THE ATCHAFALAYA BAY SHIP CANAL

(New Orleans Times-Democrat.)
On June 15 last the work of dredging a fourteen-foot channel through Atchafalaya bay from Morgan City to deep water in the gulf was begun by private enterprise. Last Saturday, at the second annual meeting of the company which organized and financed the project, it was proposed to hold, six months hence, a fair in celebration of the channel's completion and formal opening to navigation. The idea has met with popular approval, and it is altogether probable that the "deep water epoch" of the Atchafalaya bay country will be ushered in with a suitable celebration.

The opening of this channel to traffic will furnish another illustration of the truth saying that the quickest way to get a thing done is to do it yourself. Years ago the business men of Morgan City and vicinity realized the necessity and prime importance of a deep waterway to the gulf. Repeated efforts to secure the government's assistance failed. Estimates made by federal engineers upon the cost of the work ranged from $8,000,000 to $250,000. Congress declined to open the channel. Finally the business men interested organized and financed the enterprise. Its success is now assured and the cost will be $125,000, just half of the lowest estimate made by the government engineers.

With a deep water outlet for its lumber, sugar and other products the development and prosperity of the Atchafalaya country will be wonderfully quickened. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 feet of lumber alone will pass through the channel annually. There is also good reason to believe that congress will take over the maintenance of the channel when its feasibility is demonstrated, and that the men who backed their faith with cash will get back their cash as the reward of their faith. But whether the cash comes back in a lump sum out of the federal treasury or not, the promoters of the channel will receive ample dividends, either in tonnage dues or in the rapid development of their section, while as lagniappe they will get the hearty and deserved congratulations not only of their neighbors but of the people of the entire state, for the opening of a new port will directly or indirectly benefit all Louisiana.

A Deceiving Soldier
Sergeant Day was as regimental as a button stick. "Shun!" he cried to his squad. "Quick march! Left wheel! Halt! Take Murphy's name for talking in the ranks."

"But he wasn't talking," protested a corporal who was standing near. "Wasn't he?" roared Sergeant Day. "Don't matter, then. Cross it out and put him in the guard room for deceiving me."—Tid-Bits.

TOO HIGH, TOO HIGH.

Wall street associates of the great "bear," James R. Keene, admit almost unanimously that the financier is seldom caught napping. They declare, however, that Mr. Keene is absent minded occasionally, and tell this story on him to prove it. Keene and his fellow "bull baiter," Washington E. Connor were at the Keene country place outside of New York. It was a beautiful summer evening, and Connor proposed a stroll through the magnificent grounds. Though the guest had left all the cares and worries of the street in the city, apparently the host had not. The two started on the walk, but Connor noticed that Keene was strangely uncommunicative. Suddenly the full moon appeared above the trees, and Connor regarded its splendor in silence for a moment. Then he turned to his companion:

"Isn't the moon beautiful, Keene?" he asked.

"Yes, but it's too high, too high!" was the preoccupied answer, with a sigh.—Wall Street Journal.
